

COLLABORATION

....I must tell you that my powerlessness to act has caused me to see very clearly the difference between a sister servant who says, "LET'S DO THIS", and the one who is content to say, "DO THIS", without ever putting her hand to the task.

Louise knew how important collaboration was in dealing with those who worked together. She knew how important it was to esteem and respect co-workers, collaborators and sisters.

- Do I work as a team member or as an individual with my co-workers and collaborators?
- Do I try to help my collaborators and co-workers when I see them struggling?
- Do I affirm my collaborators and co-workers when they achieve results, or do I just criticise them when they do something wrong?

Loving God, help me to always be aware that those I collaborate with have the same struggles and tensions that I have and that they need my support and affirmation in their daily struggles.

Amen.
